GREEK WEINERWURST MAN GETS POLICE COURT FINE.

He and Partner Took Forceful Possession of Coveted Corner at First and Green Streets.

The Police Court was filled with Greeks and Greek calculations yesterday, when three defendants of Deemoethenes were brought before Judge Blain to explain who took part in a fight at First and Green streets Thursday night. Three interpreters struggled with the task of straightening out the jumble of sounds into broken English, while Judge Blain did the best he could to place the fine where it belonged. After the international "talk-fest" had amused the court-room loungers for half an hour Judge Blain thought that one Bill Viscalis should pay a fine of $10. Thursday's fight started over a question of possession of the northeast corner of First and Green streets. Reles Athalos and his wino-burst outfit took possession of the coveted location, when the Greek with the American-given name and his partner, Apostolos Constanta, appeared and told him to move on.

LOUISVILLE'S MEANEST MAN BRANDED BY JUDGE BLAIN.

Albert Stemple In Court Yesterday Convicted of Mistreating Mother and Sister.

After listening to the testimony against Albert Stemple yesterday Judge Blain pronounced him the meanest man in Louisville, fined him $50 and placed him under a bond of $300 for thirty days on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Stemple is a stone-mason, living at Lawrence avenue and the railroad. He was arrested by Patrolmen Zabel and Chapman. Miss Rosa Stemple told the court how her brother had struck her in the face, knocking her into the street in front of his home. Evidence was brought out that two weeks before her death the aged mother of Stemple had been mistreated. It was after this testimony had been given and Miss Stemple again took the stand and told of the cruelties the stone-mason had been subjecting his family to for years that Judge Blain gave him the title of "Louisville's meanest man."

THE REV. J. T. MORROW TO COMPLETE HIS TERM TO-DAY.

Pastor of Colored Methodist Church Has Been In Louisville For Five Years.

The Rev. J. T. Morrow, colored, pastor of Quinn's Chapel Methodist church on Walnut street, between Eighth and Ninth streets, will preach his last sermon in Louisville to-morrow, his five years' service having been completed. He will be assigned to another field of labor at the convention of the West Kentucky Colored Methodist Conference, to be held in Quinn's chapel next Wednesday. At this conference Mayor Bingham will deliver an address. Bishop C. T. Shaffer will preside. The Rev. J. T. Morrow came to Louisville from Danville five years ago. He had accepted an appointment to preach at Danville another year when he received a telegram asking him to come to Louisville and take charge of Quinn's chapel, which at that time was greatly in debt. Through his earnest work he has succeeded in clearing the debt of the church during the time that he has been pastor.

DELINQUENT TAXPAYERS THROUG SHERIFF'S OFFICE.

Last Publication Will Be Made On October 20—Many Thousands Still Unpaid.

Time that remains before the Sheriff will advertise the property of delinquent taxpayers is dwindling, and on October 20 the last notice will appear in the newspapers. Penalties take effect if citizens have not settled the bills against them in the Sheriff's office on October 31, and as a consequence of the closeness of the date there is usually to be observed a line of taxpayers before the cashier's window. The Sheriff's office has but lately removed to its old quarters on the first floor of the Courthouse, above the Fifth-street entrance, and the many books and files are being put into regular places. The recent removal, however, makes it difficult for the Tax Department to handle crowds as easily as if the books were in familiar places, and upon those who fall to pay within the next week will fall the brunt of advertising and waiting in impatient line.

Republicans Made No Headway.

The Special Committee appointed to look after the purgation of the registration lists reported at the meeting of the Democratic City and County Campaign Committee that the Republicans so far had not made a single case stick where they challenged the vote of a Democrat. All the names challenged were decided by Judge Walt R. Lincoln to be entitled to a vote. The committee reported that the members had been very busy and would continue to be busy until the work was completed and asked that the committee and ward committeemen co-operate with it in order that the work might be facilitated. Owen Tyler was present and addressed the committee at length, saying in the outset that he was confident of his election to the office of Mayor. He said that he was gaining strength every day and that there was no doubt in his mind as to his being a winner in the November election. Fred Porcht, chairman of the committee, who has been absent for several meetings, was on hand yesterday afternoon and presided. Favorable reports were made by all the ward committeemen.

LIVED FOR YEARS WITH ONE LUNG.

Death of Philip Kock, a Prominent Evansville Republican.

Evansville, Ind., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—Philip Kock for over fifty-two years an Odd Fellow and one of the best known Republican politicians of this country, died here to-day, aged seven years. He had lived since 1873 with only one lung, having submitted to an operation when one lung was removed. He was a native of Germany.

Odd Fellows Will Build Theater. Lancaster, Ky., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—The I. O. O. F. of this city has purchased a building site from Romans & Elmore for $1200 on which a handsome theater will be erected. The structure will cost $10,000.

MAYOR CALLS SPECIAL SESSION

company does not suggest a "reasonable" answer, is it not just and reasonable to answer that the Council and public must be shown the books before they are in a position to say that the present rate is unreasonably low? The Council at present has only the word of its president, who admits he has not seen the books. Let us have evidence on this point.

CONSIDERATION OR PURCHASE PRICE. The upset price was fixed in the original ordinance by the promoters at $10.00 plus $1 per annum on each telephone the company operated in excess of 5,000. No one would or did consider $10.00 promoters said. "Don't compel us to pay out all our capital for a franchise. Let us pay in installments, so to speak." And they suggested the "11 on all over 6,000 telephones" idea. This, then, is not "taxes" that this company must pay more than others pay, but is in consideration of and part of the purchase price of its franchise.

On July 1, 1907, the company had 8,023 telephones, or 2,023 over 6,000, which means that on the purchase price this year they will pay in excess of $2,000; they ask that their life be extended seven years beyond their present franchise; at $2,000 a year in seven years they will pay $14,000.

The proposed ordinance eliminates this stock franchise and fixes the upset price at $2,000. On this one proposition alone the company will receive from the public a donation of $2,000, to say nothing of loss of income to the city on future increase in the number of telephones.

ANOTHER DONATION. The company also agreed to string the city's wires, whether overhead or underground, at its expense, if the city furnished the wire.

The new ordinance relieves them from this expense and puts it on the city.

CONSOLIDATION AND CO-OPERATION. The original franchise prohibited assignment to consolidation with, absorption or control by, directly or indirectly, any other company.

It is also prohibited combination, collusion or cooperation with another company. The penalty for a violation of these provisions is, one, that the company forfeits its franchise, which the city may then sell to the highest bidder, and second, that all damages for violation of the contract, including damages for violation of the contract, shall be paid by the company.

The proposed ordinance prohibits assignment to, consolidation of, capital stock, franchises or property, pooling of earnings with, or control by a competitor, its stockholders or officers.

No prohibition whatever as to combination or cooperation. Better by far to allow such companies to consolidate and have one company and one telephone, than to allow them to co-operate, have two telephones and the companies agree and charge the public what price they will.

The only penalty provided for violation of the prohibition of the new ordinance is, "The attempt shall be absolutely void." What does that mean as a penalty? It means that in the event the company violates these prohibitions and later is found out, the city may go to the court where the case would be fought to the bitter end, for from two to four years, and then "the attempt is absolutely void." No hurt to the company, no reason why they might not try again the next day.

It is like saying, if a man steal he must return the property stolen to the owner, but receive no other punishment for the act.

Why not a real penalty, as in the old franchise, and prohibition against co-operation as well as (or instead of) a prohibition against consolidation? REPEALS ORDINANCE FIXING CUMBERLAND'S RATES.

By section 17, of the new ordinance, the ordinance of November 12, 1906, fixing the Cumberland's rates is repealed.

The Cumberland's rates is now lighting this ordinance in court and claiming that the city has no power to regulate its rates. No provision in the proposed ordinance gives the city the right to fix rates for the Home Company.

The above are facts from the ordinance (Home Company's franchise) passed November 5, 1906, and published in the city. "Compilation of ordinances for 1901, at page 200, and from the ordinance now pending.

We will as heartily approve a movement looking to permitting the Home Telephone Company to furnish party lines and pay stations, to such persons as desire, as the reduced expense of such service, as we condemn the effort to pass the proposed franchise ordinance.

Let the members of the General Council and the present franchise of the Home Telephone Company, which is nothing more or less than a contract between the company and the public, whom they represent, and answer whether they would be willing to modify a private contract to which they were a party, in this matter.

The Home Telephone Company is called on to show wherein the public will receive any advantage or benefit, which it does not now possess, through the passage of the proposed ordinance. Citizens generally are called on to give expressions to their views, as to whether the franchise ordinance should pass, or not.

BULLETS FOR TWO

IN PISTOL DUEL IN A LONDON RESTAURANT.

Chief of Police E. W. Moren and Tax Collector Robert Root Seriously Wounded.

London, Ky., Oct. 11.—Chief of Police E. W. Moren and City Tax Collector Robert Root engaged in a close-range pistol duel, in which both were seriously injured, at a late hour last night. Two years ago both men were candidates for City Marshal. Moren, on the Republican and Root on the Democratic ticket. The contest was spirited and Moren has stated that there was no bad feeling between them. Moren killed a man several years ago while performing his official duties. The trouble arose over some trivial jokes, and Root fired first, hitting Moren in the right thigh and left knee, and the bones are probably fractured. Moren was taken to his room in Catching's Hotel, and Root was removed to his home on Manchester street. Moren has served as City Marshal for about twelve years, and has made a good officer, and Root has recently served as Deputy Sheriff and Deputy Jailor.

TO PLACE OF BIRTH

BODY OF MRS. CHADWICK TAKEN FOR BURIAL.

Left a Will Which Is Not Likely To Be Probated, As There Is No Estate.

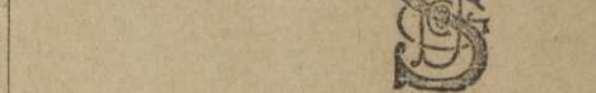

Columbus, O., Oct. 11.—The body of Mrs. Cassie Chadwick, who died in the woman's ward of the Ohio penitentiary last night, was taken this evening to Woodstock, Ont., the place of her birth, for burial. The body was accompanied by Emil Hoover, son of Mrs. Chadwick, the dead woman, and Mrs. J. W. Weston, a sister of Woodstock, who arrived during the day.

No services were held here and plans for the burial at Woodstock were not announced. The body of Mrs. Chadwick lay all day in a casket at a local undertaker's establishment and only a few persons were permitted to view it. Although a crowd of curious people besieged the place the greater part of the day, two floral pieces, neither of which had a card attached, were placed on the casket.

IMPROVEMENT CLUB TO MEET TO-NIGHT IN CRESCENT HILL.

Henry Stoepeler and Herman D. Newcomb Both Scheduled For In-structive Addresses.

Much interest is manifested in the meeting of the Crescent Hill Improvement Club, which is to be held at the Crescent Hill schoolhouse, on Oct. 12, at 8 o'clock to-night. This club is the father of a civic movement which is sweeping over Crescent Hill, Clifton, Reservoir Park and neighboring territory. What the club is only five months old, it has a membership of over 300, and hopes by the first of the year to increase its members to the number of 500. The club has been formed for the purpose of encouraging the planting and growing of plants, flowers, trees and shrubbery and lawns, and all other matters that tend to make the city beautiful. Great improvement in the appearance of the yards of Crescent Hill residents is already noticeable.

At the meeting to-night Henry Stoepeler, superintendent of Cherokee Park, will address the club members. The speaker will discuss the club members and the latest ideas in landscaping and upon the latest ideas in decorating yards. An address will also be made by Herman D. Newcomb upon the advantages of civic improvement, and a large crowd is expected. The meeting will be held at the Crescent Hill schoolhouse, on Oct. 12, at 8 o'clock to-night.

Another Takes Abstinence Pledge.

With his crippled leg bumping over the floor J. W. Bowman is said to have attacked his wife and children at Bowman's home, 2507 Stucky avenue, Friday. Bowman was quite drunk when arrested, the patrolmen say. Mrs. Bowman, when the attack of her infuriated husband was made, it is said, sought safety in flight, carrying with her a small child suffering from diphtheria. As a result of the attack Bowman was taken to the hospital, and the child is now recovering.

Preventing Accidents

Pringle Patent Punch Pocket Knives

The punch feature in this knife is one which appeals to a great many classes of people because its uses are so many and so varied.

Many a man who gets smashed up in a runaway knows beforehand there is something wrong about his harness, and he afterward says if he had a punch knife he would have fixed it in time to prevent all the
